

PEIPING TALKS REACH CRITICAL STAGE

Demo Committee Attacks Eisenhower Program

List Criticisms In Memorandum To Congressmen

Action by Butler
Is Severe Jolt to President's Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic congressmen devoted special attention today to a memorandum from party headquarters suggesting 20 grounds on which President Eisenhower's 1955 legislative program might be attacked.

The memorandum, dated Jan. 6 and originally marked "confidential," was prepared the very day Mr. Eisenhower appealed in his State of the Union message for cooperation from the Democratic-controlled Congress on domestic matters.

It was distributed to all Democratic senators and congressmen by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

The memorandum, a critique of legislative proposals outlined by the President in his State of the Union message, was a severe jolt to the President's appeal for "harmony and good will" and for "unhesitating" cooperation in the 84th Congress.

It raised questions or made criticisms of the President's proposals on defense, foreign aid, farm problems and public housing, among others.

Cites Manpower Cut
It cited the President's statement that Russian strength is "steadily growing" and asked, in view of this, how the President could justify his proposed cuts in the size of the armed forces.

"The memorandum also referred to the President's statement that 'undue reliance on one weapon or preparation for only one kind of warfare simply invites an enemy to resort to another.'"

It then asked, "may not the planned cuts in U. S. Army manpower invited the Communists to resort to small land wars that can only be countered by troops?"

The memorandum said that in proposing less restrictions on foreign trade, "the real question is not the content of Mr. Eisenhower's recommendations but whether he will fight for them against GOP opposition instead of surrendering as he did in 1954."

It said the same question might be raised about the President's proposal of $5,000 public housing units in each of the next two years.

"In 1953, after 83 per cent of the House GOP had voted against and killed Ike's public housing program, the President refused to criticize the House action."

Ask About Economic Aid
The memorandum questioned why the President made no mention in his foreign aid proposals about the economic aid program for Asia suggested by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

It also challenged the President's statement that the administration farm program has worked well.

"Farm income dropped $700,000,000 in Ike's first year in office and dropped another $300,000,000 in the first half of 1954," the report said. "Farm prices have dropped 10-12 per cent since Ike's inauguration."

It also challenged the President's statement that 1954 "was one of the most prosperous years in our history." The President was accused of failing to mention that "average monthly unemployment in 1954 was nearly 2,000,000 higher than in 1953."

The memorandum noted that the President said the administration had sharply reduced federal expenditures, making possible a tax cut. But, it retorted, the GOP still has not lived up to its promise to balance the budget.

HTHS Senior Students Enter Essays in Annual Elks Contest

Several students in the senior English classes at the Harrisburg Township high school have recently entered essays for competition in the annual Elks Essay contest.

Students entering the contest were required to write essays 300 words in length on the subject of "What can we do to keep America strong?"

Judges for the local Elks lodge will be selected by the Youth Activities chairman. The winning essay will then be entered in the district contest. The Elks South district awards a scholarship to the first place winner in the South district. The South district winning essay is then entered in the state association contest where there is a first prize of $400 and a second prize of $200.

Bill Epperheimer was the winner in the Harrisburg contest last year.

Top Story of Metropolis Hotel Destroyed by Fire

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—A fire destroyed the top floor of the four-story Metropolis Hotel Friday night, but none of the guests were injured.

The blaze threatened for a while to engulf an entire block in the city's business district before firemen from Metropolis and nearby Paducah, Ky., brought it under control.

The fire was believed to have started in a fourth-floor hallway. Firemen at first thought they had it under control, but it suddenly burst out of an abandoned elevator shaft.

The fight to control the blaze lasted three hours.

There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Dr. Sheppard in Special Cell After Mother's Suicide

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, grief-stricken over the suicide of his mother, was put into a special cell under close watch at county jail today.

The move was ordered without explanation by Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney despite protests by the convicted wife slayer that "I want to be with the fellows I know."

Sheppard asked the sheriff for permission to visit the West Side funeral home where the body of Mrs. Ethel Niles Sheppard, 64, was taken after she shot and killed herself Friday. Sweeney said that would be up to the Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Sheppard shot herself Friday afternoon at the same time defense counsel William J. Corrigan withdrew "without prejudice" his motion for a new trial for his client on the basis of "new evidence." Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Marilyn, July 4, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

To Fight Bail Request
Corrigan also asked the three-judge Court of Appeals to free Sheppard on bail pending hearing on his appeal. The county prosecutor immediately announced it would fight the move, on grounds the prisoner is not "bailable."

The Appeals Court will hear the bail motion Jan. 17. It will also hear a motion to postpone beginning of Sheppard's prison sentence.

Mrs. Sheppard suffered a stroke during Sheppard's trial and was hospitalized there for some time. When she got better, her husband, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, had a severe attack of pleurisy. He entered the hospital and asked that his wife stay in a nearby room instead of staying alone at home.

Later she went to live with her second son, Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard. It was there she locked the bedroom door just before noon Friday, wrote "I can't manage without Dad. Thanks for everything" on one of Dr. Stephen's letters, then lay down on the bed and shot herself with a snubnosed revolver she found in a drawer.

OIL REPORT:

Two Wells Completed in Eldorado; Another Temporarily Abandoned

By JERRY ROBERTSON

Two wells came in and two holes were abandoned—one temporarily—during the period ending January 6 in Eldorado township.

G. L. Reaser's James H. Porter No. 4 NE 1/4 Sec 28-8-7e, made an oil well in the Aux Vases lime at 2893-99. Initial production was 102 barrels of oil and 18 barrels of salt water per day on pump after hydraulic fracture.

The Pledger-Walton Unit No. 1, 340 feet south and 256 feet east of NW 1/4 Sec 20-8-7e, also made a well in the Aux Vases at 2866-74. Initial production was 42 barrels per day on pump.

Dr. and abandoned was the Walker Drilling company's DeVera in 1929-33.

Other oil activity in Saline county for the period ending Jan. 6: Pao Petroleum's Clara Barrett et al No. 1, 330 feet south and 780 feet west of the NE 1/4 SW 7-8-7e, drilled cable tools to test the Aux Vases at 2959-72 with a total depth of 2982 and five and a half inch casing set at 2980. A 90 minute drill stem test at 2930-82 recovered 60 feet of gas, 90 feet of slight oil cut mud, 60 feet of salt water. The Aux Vases was cored at 2959-72 and recovered 13 feet—7 feet of tight hard saturated sand and six feet of green sand with no show of oil.

Gulf Refining company's Blanch Jackson No. 1, Sec NW NE 10-8-7e, was drilling at 2861. A two-hour drill stem test at 1945-78 gassed in 16 minutes—an estimated 230,000 cubic feet of gas in two hours—and recovered 115 feet of muddy salt water and 240 feet of gas cut salt water, bottom hole pressure 813. A two-hour drill stem test at 2218-32 recovered 30 feet of muddy slight gas cut mud.

Select Five HTHS
Singers for All-State
High School Chorus

Dorothy Hanning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanning, Dorothy Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schneider, Oren Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Brown, Dick Childress, son of Mrs. Ruth Childress, and Fred Kinnaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Kinnaman, were recently selected from students in the chorus department at the Harrisburg Township high school to be part of an All-State High School Chorus composed of 600 students at an All-State Music school to be held Feb. 4 and 5 at the University of Illinois.

While attending the school, the students will engage in an intensive study of music, with rehearsals under guest conductors. Highlighting the school, will be a concert being presented by the students Feb. 5 under the direction of Don Craig from the university.

In selecting the students to attend the school, any number of students could be recommended, though the number selected was limited from each school. A committee of the state organization then selected the students to attend from the recommendations.

At the same time the school is held, the annual convention of the Illinois Music association will be held at which time officers will be elected. John Schork, director of vocal music at HTHS, is one of the nominees for an office of the association.

The All-State Music school also consists of a high school band and orchestra. Directing the band will be Mark Hindley and the orchestra, George Wilson. The band will be composed of 184 students selected from 576 recommendations and the orchestra of 181 students chosen from 276 recommendations.

The following local doctors plan to attend the Dr. Andy Hall day in Mt. Vernon today: Dr. B. E. Montgomery, D. A. Lehman, W. J. Blackard and G. R. Johnson.

McCarthy Hurls 'Deception' Charge at Army

Demands Immediate
New Investigation
In Peress Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy hauled a charge of "deliberate deception" at the Army today and demanded an immediate new investigation of the celebrated Peress case.

That was McCarthy's reaction to a 10,000-word report issued at the Pentagon Friday night on former Major Irving Peress, New York dentist who was discharged honorably after the senator labelled him a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

The 38-page document, taken with related recent developments, had speculation soaring today on the political future of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Army Counsellor John G. Adams.

Adams and Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, Army deputy chief of staff, were identified as the officials who let Peress' honorable discharge go through last Feb. 2 in the face of McCarthy's demand for a court martial. They wanted to be rid of the dentist "as expeditiously as possible," the Army report said.

Precipitated Army Row
Adams told a reporter that "the chronology speaks for itself." Weible was not available immediately for comment.

Discharging Peress had been the recommendation of several echelons of intelligence officers. They spent months studying the case after Peress refused, on constitutional grounds, to answer questions concerning membership in Communist or other subversive groups.

The Peress case precipitated the angry Army-McCarthy row which a special Senate subcommittee investigated last year. McCarthy contended information in the new Army report was barred from that subcommittee. He accused Stevens and Adams of "deliberate deception." He said, without specifying where, "there definitely is considerable evidence of perjury."

The Wisconsin Republican said he would call for a meeting next Monday of the Senate investigating subcommittee and propose that Stevens, Adams, Weible and Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker be called for testimony.

Bride, 15, Given 30 Days to Decide
If She Wants to Remain Married

CHICAGO (AP)—A 15-year-old bride who likes "one thing one day and something else the next" today had 30 days to decide if she would like to stay married.

Loretta Joyce Sink was given the time to make up her mind Friday at a court hearing on a charge by her husband that his in-laws were forcibly keeping his wife from him.

Loretta married Bruce Hogsett, 24, a cab driver, on Nov. 20, at suburban Harvey before a justice of the peace. She gave her age on the marriage license as 19.

The girl apparently continued to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sink, after the wedding and to attend freshman classes at St. Xavier Academy.

She paid visits to her husband occasionally until Monday. Then two off-duty policemen, friends of

Burns Fatal to Four Children

CHICAGO (AP)—Four small brothers died today of burns suffered when a fire trapped them in their locked apartment.

The four Lee children died in Provident and St. Bernard's hospitals within 90 minutes of one another.

The dead youngsters were Gary and Greg, 3-year-old twins, Allen, 23 months, and Lawrence, 4. They had been taken Friday night from their apartment by firemen who broke down the door.

The boys' mother, Mrs. Dolores Lee, 30, was not in the apartment when the blaze broke out. Police said she was too hysterical to be questioned immediately.

Hammaraskjold, Chou To Meet Again Monday

Diplomatic Sparring
Is Over and Real
Negotiations Begun

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammaraskjold and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai met for more than five hours today in their third and longest talk on the fate of 11 American airmen jailed on spy charges by Red China.

They scheduled a fourth session for next Monday.

The first report on today's session came from Radio Peiping, Red China's propaganda voice.

Hammaraskjold had been reported planning to leave Peiping Sunday or early Monday. But apparently he changed his mind and decided to continue the talks.

Critical Phase at Hand
It was believed this third meeting launched the critical phase of their talks.

They met in the Shinwa (West Flower) hall in Peiping, ancient and fabulous "Forbidden City," with their advisers forming a square around them.

D. R. Manekkar, a Times of India editor on special assignment in Peiping for the United Press, said it was apparent the diplomatic sparring was over and that real negotiations began today.

Manekkar said Hammaraskjold put forth the United Nations' case at the first formal meeting Thursday, holding that Red China violated the Korean War prisoners agreement by refusing to repatriate the fliers, captured while in uniform.

Chou was said to have set forth Red China's argument at Friday's meeting, repeating that the fliers were on an "espionage" mission when they were shot down and were not entitled to repatriation. Argue Crash Site

The United Nations' argument is that the fliers' B29 was downed in North Korea. Chou claims their plane crashed in the Manchurian sanctuary near Antung, where they were captured by peasants.

Russia Frees Two Americans

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians today released two Americans they held for more than five years.

They are John H. Noble, 28, Detroit, Mich., and Pvt. William T. Marchuk, 38, Brackenridge, Pa.

Noble was arrested in Soviet Germany, in July, 1945, and Marchuk in February, 1949.

A third American, also a soldier arrested in 1949, was not released. Noble and Marchuk were released at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST), officials said.

Russia announced in a note last Friday it was releasing the two men but denied knowledge of a third American, William A. Verdine, 28, Sparks, La., reported held in the same prison camp with them.

Marchuk, a soldier like Verdine, was absent without leave when he disappeared from his Berlin post Feb. 11, 1949.

Noble is the son of a German-born American, Charles A. Noble, who spent seven years in Soviet Zone jails before his release two years ago. Noble and his father were arrested at Dresden in July, 1945.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
And fear not them that kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul.—Matt. 10:16.

Life on earth is an ephemeral incident. Three score years and ten are negligible as compared with eternity.

It's time to give some last minute thoughts to your poultry plans for this year. If baby chick sales are low next spring, egg prices are likely to be higher next fall. Don't decide whether you'll buy chicks
on today's egg prices—buy them on the basis of the price you expect in late summer and early fall, when you'll be getting eggs
from today's chicks.

Increase Woodland Returns by Selling Sawlogs Instead of Standing Timber

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A farmer who sells his timber on a stumpage basis is passing up a good opportunity to collect wages for leisure time in winter, says John Hos-ner, Southern Illinois university forestry instructor. It compares selling standing corn in the field.

In most cases, he points out, a farmer may increase returns from his woodland four or five times by cutting and selling sawlogs by grade and variety instead of as standing trees.

One deterrent factor entering the picture may be a lack of adequate timber harvesting equipment, he explains. However, the farm woodland topography and timber size often are such that available farming equipment such as wheel tractors and wagons may be used satisfactorily and profitably.

Another reason many woodland owners in southern Illinois do not harvest their own timber and do not carry out better management practices is their failure to realize how profitable are such activities.

Woodland enterprises, Hosner says, do not afford as intensive use of farm labor and machinery as do many other farming enterprises,
and the return per acre is smaller.
However, the amount of labor and investment is smaller, too, so the actual return per man-hour expended and dollar invested compares favorably with that of more intensive farm activities.

Hosner offers these general selling rules for the woodland owner:
1. If possible, sell woodland products rather than just sawlogs. For example, cabinet veneer logs—
from high quality walnut, white oak, red oak, yellow or tulip poplar, and sweet gum trees—are valuable material. Container veneer markets use such varieties as poplar, cottonwood, sycamore, elm, and soft maple. A directory of markets for timber products may be obtained free from the SIU Agriculture Department.

2. Do not sell standing trees on a lump sum basis. It is more profitable in the long run to mark and sell only the larger trees.

3. Do not sell on the basis of so much per thousand board feet unless there is an agreement with the buyer on the amount he is to take. Otherwise poorer quality timber may be left behind.

4. Do not sell hurriedly. Timber usually will stand a year or two more without losing value and the farmer may shop around for better offers.

5. Execute a written contract of sale outlining the full particulars of the sales agreement.

6. Seek the assistance of the local farm forester, both in marketing the timber products and in managing the timber for future benefit.

Bartlett Says Dairy Stockpile May Help Prices

The idea of creating a stockpile from cheese, nonfat milk solids and butter "surpluses" is reasonable and should help both the dairyman and the nation, believes a farm economist at the University of Illinois.

R. W. Bartlett says the idea has been proposed, but he doesn't know what chance it has of becoming a Department of Agriculture policy. The same thing has been done with wheat and other commodities.

"Some of the so-called surpluses would look pretty good in national emergency," Bartlett asserts. Under the plan, he says, the stocks would be rotated from year to year to save losses from deterioration.

Dairyman are working out from under the surpluses, Bartlett says.
Butter consumption is up about ten percent since price supports were lowered to 75 percent of parity.

Fluid milk consumption is up
a little more than three percent since then. Some of the increase is due to the increase in population, which is up about one and a half percent.

Milk production will probably total about 124 billion pounds this year, about three billion more than in 1953, and some economists are expecting about 126 billion pounds in 1955.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
Here are a few winter feeding
reminders for the dairy herd owner.

To obtain more profit from a dairy cow, adjust her ration according to her production. It is only reasonable thinking that a cow with high milk production needs more and better feed than does one not producing so well.

The amount of protein needed in the concentrate mixture fed to cows depends on the quality of roughage. Poor quality hay requires a grain mixture of higher protein content than good hay.

Overfeeding may cause a common digestive upset in calves.
When this occurs, reduce the feed intake and then adjust it upward
again when the calf recovers.
There are infectious type scours, however, which cannot be treated effectively by this method.

Always keep the farm water system in good repair. Frequent inspection for signs of possible trouble may save considerable inconvenience resulting from breakdowns. Tank heaters for winter use and float-controlled waterers are good investments for the farm.

Plantings of tree fruits and small fruits in southern Illinois have been reduced to the point where judicious new plantings seem in order for good commercial growers. Some expansion in peaches and strawberries would seem advisable.

New varieties should be considered for new plantings. Systematic breeding programs are resulting in varieties of fruit better adapted to present day consumer demands than are some of the varieties now considered standard.
Future strength of the fruit industry of the area may hinge on variety selections and on the quantity of such varieties planted. Consulting variety specialists will be helpful for the fruit grower in making the most valuable selections in planting for future production.

Trees up to eight inches in diameter may be killed by applying a basal bark treatment composed of 2, 4, 5-T in oil at the rate of 16 pounds of acid to 100 gallons of oil. In applying the mixture, paint the lower part of the trunk completely up to 15 inches above ground level, encircling the trunk.
Apply the material to the point of runoff. Thoroughly treat the ground line of the tree.

A satisfactory winter treatment for poultry lice is to apply nicotine sulphate to the perches shortly before the flock goes to roost. The application should be repeated in 10 days.

Any consumer avoids buying dirty
eggs. The laying flock owner will find that changing the nesting material frequently will keep eggs clean.

Start Battle Against Swine Parasites Now

Getting rid of large intestinal worms in sows at this time of the year is a little like swatting flies
in the winter time.

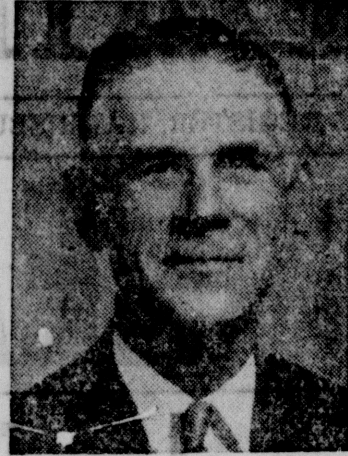

Every worm you kill now means
many less to cause you trouble
next spring and summer, says Dr.
N. D. Levine of the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Levine explains that the eggs of the intestinal worm are dropped on the pasture or feed-lot by infested animals. Young pigs pick up the eggs and swallow them.
The eggs hatch into tiny worms
in the stomachs of the young pigs and begin a cycle in the body of the pig that can cause serious stunting or even death.

Worms do much of their damage
before they reach the intestines,
where treatment can destroy them.
To prevent this damage you must interrupt the life cycle at some point. Worming and strict sanitation are the best ways to prevent this damage, says Dr. Levine.

Sows should be wormed at least 30 days before farrowing by using sodium fluoroide in the feed. If not properly used, any material that will eliminate worms is also toxic to hogs, warns Dr. Levine.
He suggests contacting your veterinarian for information on what worming materials to use.

istered for the 4th annual Winter Short Course at the University of

Area Rainfall Hits Normal For the Year

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Decem-ber's six inches of rainfall were just what was needed to make 1954
a normal year weatherwise in southern Illinois, says Dallas Price, Southern Illinois university associate professor of geography who specializes in area weather study.

Most laymen would hardly believe that 1954 was as normal as it was in spite of ups and downs in temperature and precipitation, he says. He quotes statistics on Carbondale's weather to back his analysis and says that, with slight local variations, they are representative of much of southern Illinois.

The year had 105 days with some rainfall. The heaviest came Sept. 21 when 2.36 inches fell in one afternoon. The year's total was slightly more than 45 inches,
the normal expectancy for southern Illinois.

March was the driest month with only a little more than one inch of rainfall. Other months had three or more inches. Sixteen days from Nov. 2 to 18 comprised the year's longest period without rain.

The year's normal precipitation,
however, is insufficient to offset the deficiency of some 20 inches accumulated during the previous three years of sub-normal rainfall, Price points out. It will take another year or more of normal or above-normal rainfall to catch up.

Northwestern and northern counties of southern Illinois suffered considerable crop damage because they received less rainfall than the rest of the area. Excessive evaporation during hot summer weather also affected area farm crops, even with fairly normal rainfall, because of a lack of reserve moisture in the soil.

Temperatures went haywire during the early part of 1954. Price says. February and April were warmer than normal and March and May were colder. May was the most out of line—six degrees colder than average. In fact, most early seeded vegetables were stunted and some in low areas were killed
by May's cold weather.

The coldest 1954 reading at Carbondale was five degrees above zero on Jan. 11—considerably above the 22 below for Feb. 2, 1951. The hottest day came July 14 with a reading of 104 degrees. The record for Carbondale is 113. The year had 81 days with readings above 90 and 16 days with readings above
100. There were only 24 days during the months of June, July, and August in which the maximum reading did not hit 90 or more.
The 199 frost free days between April 2 and Oct. 19 were six days more than average. However, frost came five days earlier than normal in the fall.

The year produced only one "old-fashioned" snow, a nine-inch fall in January which stayed on the ground 10 days. However, the year's total of 11 inches was three short of the normal quota. February failed to live up to its usual record as the snowiest month.

As a whole the year was normal in temperature in spite of variations. The year's average was 57.2 degrees—four-tenths of a degree below normal. The last three months were slightly below normal in temperature. Summer months were a bit above average.

Says Price, "The record refutes the theory that the climate is warming up—at least in southern Illinois during 1954."

Select Crop Varieties Best For Your Area

A good crop variety, like a good tool, will help you to do a better job.

Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel says that choosing the right variety for your farm may mean the difference between successful yields and crop failure.

But choosing a well-adapted variety is only part of the story, Mr.
Kimmel says. You can pick the best variety for your area and then fail to get a good crop because you use poor-quality seed, fail to supply enough plant food to your soil,
plant in a poorly prepared seedbed or let weeds rob your crop of moisture and plant nutrients.

Some of the things to consider in determining whether a particular variety is adapted to your area are time of maturity, yield, lodging resistance, disease and insect resistance, quality and ability of the variety to produce a satisfactory crop under adverse as well as favorable conditions.

Characteristics of new crop varieties are constantly being studied by the Department of Agronomy
in variety trials on the University

Farm Reporters Complete Measuring 1955 Wheat Crop

Farm reporters have completed the measuring of the 1955 wheat crop in Saline county, according to Paul B. Whitlock, chairman of the local ASC committee.

"We have contacted every farmer we thought may have wheat sown to harvest in 1955," Mr. Whitlock stated. "If we have missed
your farm please notify the Saline County ASC Office, Room 7, City Hall, Harrisburg, and we will measure your wheat. We will have to have your wheat measured before you can be issued a wheat marketing card."

Family-Size Farm Holds Its Own

CHICAGO — (UP) — Family-size farms are here to stay despite the trend toward fewer and bigger farms that has come with three decades of mechanization, the magazine National Live Stock Producer reports.

Analyzing 1950 census figures,
the magazine found that nearly 80 per cent of all commercial farms fall into a family-scale class and that these farms produce nearly 70 per cent of all farm products sold.

"That's mighty strong evidence,"
the magazine concluded, "that family-size farms are still the backbone of America's great agricultural industry."

For its study, the National Live Stock Producer considered as family-size farms those with annual sales between $1,200 and $25,000.

of Illinois experiment fields in De-Kalb, Champaign, Fayette and Pope counties. Information from these and many other trials being conducted all over the state is collected and reviewed by the department before a variety is considered adapted to Illinois.

For the latest recommendations
on crop varieties, ask your farm adviser for a copy of Circular 731,
"Crop Varieties for Illinois." Or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy.

In 1953 Illinois farmers used about 1 1/2 million tons of fertilizer.

Classified Ads a Tremendous Force in Advertising Field

DID YOU KNOW that in the year 1953 (figures not available yet for 1954) $543,100,000 was spent for classified advertising. This is $44,800,000 MORE than the amount spent for all the network, spot and local radio.

It was $159,700,000 MORE than all network, spot and local TV; (no talent or production cost included).

It was $228,700,000 MORE than the money spent in weekly magazines.

It was $348,900,000 MORE than was spent on outdoor advertising.

These figures should give you an idea of what a tremendous force Classified is in the advertising field.

Arrest Girl Friend Of American Held In Panama Shooting

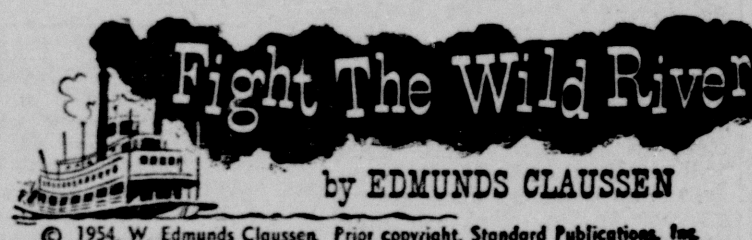

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican secret service agents have arrested a telephone girl described as the girl friend of an American held in Panama in connection with the assassination of President Jose A. Remon, it was reported today.

The girl was identified as Isabel Alonso Barranco, said to be the girl friend of Martin Irving Lipstein, a Brooklyn-born Los Angeles school teacher still held in Panama although authorities there said he had given investigators a legitimate alibi.

Informed sources said the secret service is rounding up a group of suspects and an official announcement will be made soon. Most of the suspects were reported to have arrived here from Panama and other Central American nations since the assassination.

They said Miss Barranco frequently was seen in Lipstein's company before the American boarded an Italian ship bound for South America on Dec. 17.

The Daily Register 25c a week

THE STORY: Radcliff Burke has planned to steal a shipment of rifles being sent up the Colorado River for the United Army. Captain Crotch's steamboat General Heath is carrying the shipment along with its usual crowd of miners headed for the gold strike. The boat is at Yuma where the Captain has been talking to Major Murphy.

Crotch was stalking over the walk in a nervous stride when excitement gripped him.

The creaking sound of a wagon reached him first. He stopped, standing dead-still with his boots spread to the trail pitch, listening, and hearing only the rolling river. It was said that once a man sank beneath its whirlpools he never lifted his head from the vortex.

Again the fresh sound of movement came to him, the muted jingle of trace chains. It stung him into action. There was no legitimate business that should bring a wagon between these arrow-weed covered hummocks. Radcliff Burke would be back of this. The rifles were bait too powerful for Burke to resist.

At this moment Goss needed him as never before! He was racing now, halfway to the General Heath when the raw sound of the fight reached him. The crew, he realized, would be having their hands full turning roustabouts away from their rails.

By a pair of bulkhead lanterns which illuminated the deck, he made out quite readily the score of men weaving back and forth. Others made dark outlines on the deck planks where they had fallen. Immediately Crotch discarded the idea of irate miners fighting for deck passage. The rig with its horses in the background, the scope of the struggle, put the lie to these thoughts.

Now, while Crotch watched, his Chinese cook ran down a passage, pigtail flying and oversized shirt that was soiled from month-long wear flapping against his thighs. China Boy, they called him. Last night Crotch had surprised him soaking his bunions feet in their soup kettle. And yet what His Celestial Highness was doing at this moment would go a long way toward allaying Crotch's displeasure. China Boy carried a poker which had been nurtured to cherry-red heat in his galley range. With this hot end he was freely stroking a raider engaged with his crew.

A plank had been thrown across the rail over which Crotch swept in his angry haste.

He caught a swift glimpse of Goss and Melott, putting up heroic resistance on the forward cargo deck. Their Cocopah deckhands had armed themselves with four-foot lengths of wood from the bunkers, wielding these with the adroitness of men enjoying their fight.

In Remembrance

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, B. J. Kaid, who passed away one year ago today, Jan. 8, 1954.

Some may think you are forgotten

Kiner Agrees to Indians' Contract

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Ralph Kiner salary hassle came to a close today when the former Pittsburgh Pirate and Chicago Cubs star signed a Cleveland Indians' contract for a salary estimated at $50,000. Kiner previously had volunteered to take a cut in excess of the 25 per cent limit imposed by baseball law. The move set off a heated debate and Kiner finally relented and signed for the mandatory 25 per cent cut from 1954's salary.

Illinois CIO Asks Extension of Jobless Pay to 39 Weeks

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph Germano, president of the CIO Illinois State Industrial Union Council, has called for an extension of unemployment compensation from 26 to 39 weeks.

Germano, addressing the opening of the Illinois CIO Convention Friday, said the longer period is justified by increased unemployment.

Unemployment figures have topped 3 1/2 million nationally, he said, and "the figures run actually to 5 million if you count the cutbacks from full employment time to part time work."

Bull Dogs Bow to Centralia Orphans, 78-56

AT THIS POINT WE WERE STILL IN THE GAME: Don Price goes high for two points with less than two minutes to play in the third quarter of last night's game. Other Harrisburg players in the picture are John Wilson (40) and Joe Morris. Guarding Price is Centralia's Franklin (12), as the Orphans' Jim Morris (11) and Klosterman (number obscured) get ready for the rebound. (Register Staff Photo)

THE SPLENDID SPLINTER IN ACTION... Bobby Joe Mason dribbled through a tangle of players to get in the clear for a layup in this shot, taken early in the game. Mason's superb shooting, faking, and ball-handling constantly amazed the crowd, many of whom came to the game to see if he lived up to advance reports. He did. Bull Dogs identifiable: John Wilson (40), Dave Harrison (35), Charles Polk (partially hidden behind Mason), and Don Price (hidden behind Harrison). Centralia's Jim Morris stands by. NCAA Test Vote Gives Television Committee Green Light on 'Game of Week'

NEW YORK (AP) — A rousing, 80 per cent "test of strength" endorsement today gave the NCAA's incoming Television Committee a green light to continue the "Game of the Week" TV program in 1955.

The committee, which will be chosen today, is under no obligation to suggest a continuation of the 1954 plan but is expected to do so as a result of the overwhelming show of strength in Friday's vote. In that vote, 165 of 207 colleges approved either the "Game of the Week" program or a plan similar to it.

The test vote, requested by Rev. Edmund Joyce of Notre Dame, was a stinging reversal for the powerful Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences which are demanding that a regional program be worked out. Only 18 colleges joined with 19 Big Ten and PCC schools to support the plan.

The new committee was directed to consider the various proposals for TV programs and then submit one to the NCAA membership for a mail vote. Two-thirds of the schools must approve the new plan for it to be adopted.

H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, athletic director of Michigan, indicated that the Big Ten would await the result of the mail vote before making its decision known.

"We'll do nothing until the TV plan is announced in April," Crisler said. "The Big Ten has stated its position and its thinking. We are open-minded as long as the new plan is not the same as last year or too similar."

The television problem was the chief order of business Friday but the convention also was warned of the recruiting problem by Frank N. Gardner of Drake University, who is chairman of the NCAA Committee on Infractions.

Gardner reported that 52 cases of recruiting had been reported in the last three years and that 13 cases of alleged infractions still are being investigated. The identities of the colleges were not revealed but Oklahoma was investigated last month.

"There is nothing wrong with recruiting as such," Gardner stated. "What makes it wrong is when it is carried on in violation of the basic educational and ethical principles and when it bursts out of prescribed boundaries."

Clarence P. Houston of Tufts College was elected president of the NCAA succeeding A. B. Moore of Alabama.

Stonefort Five In 14-Team Tournament

The Stonefort grade school basketball team is entered in a 14-team tournament for grade schools to be held at Chittiville near Herrin, starting Monday, Jan. 10. The meet will be held four days, Jan. 10, 11, 13 and 14. No games are listed for Wednesday, Jan. 12.

Stonefort meets Creal Springs in the second game of the tourney Monday afternoon.

The tourney starts at 1:30 Monday with Freeman Spur meeting Paulton.

Teams entered are Freeman Spur, Paulton, Creal Springs, Pittsburg, East Beaver Pond, Engrig, Sunnyside, St. Mary's of Herrin, Cambria, Chittiville, Colp Standard, Crainville, Colp Attacks and Stonefort.

Last night Stonefort travelled to Colp and won 52-36. This was the tenth consecutive victory without a defeat for Stonefort in league play.

The preliminary game also resulted in a Stonefort win, 22-21, in an overtime.

Patterson Stops Willie Troy in Fifth Round

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, who stopped Willie Troy in the fifth round, will be ready for a light heavyweight title shot "within the year," Manager Custer D'Amato admitted reluctantly today.

D'Amato, the fight game's most cautious pilot, was practically forced into that admission of his fighter's prowess by Patterson's smashing victory over knockout specialist Troy of Washington, D. C. at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"Yes, he'll be ready for a shot at Archie Moore before the end of the year," D'Amato said. "He proved for sure last night he's got plenty of steel in his chin." Troy had knocked out 23 of his previous 32 opponents.

But, meanwhile, Floyd will engage in his first scheduled 10-round bout on Jan. 17, against Don Grant of Los Angeles at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. "Just how many 10-rounders he'll need after that, before knocking Moore, I don't know," said the wary mentor.

Patterson, 1952 Olympic middleweight champion was rated fourth among professional light heavyweight contenders when he went into the ring Friday night for his last scheduled eight-round. The bout was slated for only eight sessions because the match was made before Floyd's 20th birthday last Tuesday. It was nationally televised and broadcast.

Scaling 166 pounds to Troy's 162, rangy young Patterson gave 22-year-old Troy such a merciless battering that Dr. Vincent Nardiello, Referee Al Berl and Troy's manager, Al Weill, agreed Willie would be unable to come out for the sixth round.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

A program for allotting tickets to the schools participating in the Greater Egyptian conference tournament to be held at the Pope County high school, Golconda, has been announced.

The Pope County gym will seat 700, it is reported, and the allotment of tickets has been set up to provide 140 tickets each night to schools participating in that particular session and 25 tickets to the non-participating schools.

For example — Shawneetown plays the opening night, Jan. 18, so Shawneetown will be allotted 140 tickets for that night. The following night, Tuesday, Shawneetown is not playing so only 25 tickets will be available.

As I figure it, that would allot 660 tickets for each session and that is pretty near capacity. Tickets will be placed on sale at the various schools.

Participating schools are Shawneetown, Equality, Ridgway, Galatia, Cave-in-Rock, Rosiclare, Vienna and the host school, Pope County high.

Officials for the tourney are Ford Peebles of Marion, Charles Rothchild of Cairo and Herschel Wilkinson of West Frankfort.

Waltonville will be host to the annual tourney of the Little Egyptian conference, Jan. 17-20.

The drawings:

Game 1, Blufford vs. Waltonville.

Game 2, Valier vs. Thompsonville.

Game 3, Crab Orchard vs. Dahlgren.

Game 4, Royaltown vs. Woodlawn.

Semifinals will be played Jan. 19 and the consolation and championship games Jan. 20.

Royaltown is defending tourney champ, but unbeaten Crab Orchard is the favorite to cop this season's trophy.

Denny Coleman of Shawneetown was second high scorer for Southern Illinois university's Air Force ROTC rifle team as SIU won over Lehigh university this week.

Coleman scored 380 of a possible 400 points and was just one point back of the SIU leader who scored 381 points.

ADD JUNIOR HIGH FIRE LOSSES! Among the many items that can never be replaced that were lost in the disastrous fire that hit the Junior high school trophy case. The athletic history of the school could be read by spending some time at the trophy case and reading the inscriptions on the many, many trophies, scores printed on basketballs and most of all — looking at the team pictures.

Locals Run Out of Steam in Third Period; Mason Scores 32 Points

Play at Marion Tonight in Return Game

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs last night played great ball against the highly-touted Centralia Orphans for two and a half quarters at Dav-entport gym before running out of steam and bowing, 78 to 56.

At the midway point in the third period Centralia held by a three-point lead, but the Orphans slipped away in a hurry the last quarter and a half to win handily.

It was a South Seven conference game and Centralia remains at the top of the heap with no losses in loop play.

Bobby Joe Mason, Orphan star, had one of his average nights as he showed his prowess in moving about in crowds by slipping in for 13 field goals. He also made six free shots for a 32-point total. Until the rout started, it was Bobby Joe definitely who was keeping Centralia in the running.

Anglin Scores 18 Points

David Anglin was the big gun in the first half attack, making 14 points in the first two periods. He made four the last half to give him 18 points for the evening.

The crowd was wild the first half as the locals stayed right with the Orphans. After the first three minutes Coach Gene Bland's Bull Dogs took the lead and held it most of the remainder of the quarter, which ended with the locals ahead, 13-11.

During the second quarter the lead changed six times before the Orphans went ahead in the closing minute and a half. At halftime Coach Jim Evers' lads led 36-33.

Bull Pups Lose, 64-52

For the first four minutes of the third period the count was close, with Centralia leading but 46-43 with half the canto to go. But in those last four minutes the Orphans scored 13 points to two for Harrisburg, and the game was over, as far as knowing the victor was concerned. They outscored Harrisburg 19-11 in the last frame.

In the preliminary game the Bull Pups lost, 64 to 52. Centralia led 15-11 at the quarter, 33-29 at the half and 48-40 at the third period. For Harrisburg John Ziegler had 15 points, Bill Henshaw, Wayne Stone and Bryan Jones had 9 each, Bennie Fulkerson had 8, Jim Cummins had 2 and Bill Bottomley and Charles Cummins also saw action.

Tonight the Bull Dogs travel to Marion for another South Seven contest. Marion beat the Bull Dogs here in December.

Collinsville Edges Edwardsville, 55-54; Herrin Loses to E. St. Louis

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Cicero Morton, third-ranked Illinois high school basketball club, was dropped 67-65 by Proviso in an overtime thriller Friday night.

Other well-regarded teams that fell in key contests included Clinton, Hinsdale, Taylorville, Rock Island, Galesburg, Edwardsville, Newton and Waukegan.

In Northwest Conference competition, Moline pulled away by turning back a hopeful Galesburg vice 72-64. Meanwhile, East Moline mowed down Rock Island 51-48.

Once-beaten Urbana stopped Clinton's tall club cold by controlling the ball to win 45-37. Newton, also once-beaten, was a 73-59 victim of the Charleston Trojans.

Edwardsville and Collinsville, two long-time rivals from the strong southwest area, tied into each other in a nip-and-tuck struggle. When the smoke cleared, Collinsville was a 55-54 winner over the Egyptian tournament titleholder.

East St. Louis had less trouble than expected in beating the Herrin Tigers 47-36. Dupo, the team that upset the Flyers in the East

Unbeaten Shawneetown Defeats Equality, 45-30; Cave-in-Rock and Vienna Win

Shawneetown, Cave-in-Rock and Vienna mastered their opposition in Greater Egyptian conference play last night, maintaining their top positions in the loop standings.

Unbeaten Shawneetown pulled away from Equality in the last half for a 45-30 triumph. Cave staved off a last quarter Ridgway rally to win, 64-61, and Vienna outscored a hot, but winless, Rosiclare team, 82-71.

At Equality, Coach "Kayo" Willis' cagers staged a bright first quarter, taking a 9-4 lead on the area's top team. The Indians came to life in the second and assumed a 19-13 edge at halftime. The Cards held on desperately in the third and trailed only 30-23, but the invaders broke loose in the fourth.

Jack Nolen led the Shawnee offensive with 25 points. It was the

McLeansboro Trips Eldorado Eagles, 57-55

McLeansboro and Eldorado battled through four regular periods and a three-minute overtime last night before the visiting McLeansboro Foxes took the decision, 57-55.

It was a typical Fox-Eagle thriller-diller and the fans had been put in the proper pitch for such excitement by a preliminary game that went right down to the wire with the visitors also copping the win, 44-41.

Eldorado almost had the victory on two occasions, but couldn't hold on for the necessary few remaining seconds.

After finally forging to the front 51-49 with seconds left to play in regulation time, Eldorado fans watched as Webb, McLeansboro reserve, sank a one-handed fall away shot. That made it 51-41.

Then in the overtime Eldorado twice went ahead, only to have the Foxes tie the count. Then as time ran out Sloan, one of the many sophomores on the McLeansboro team, got away from the Eagle defense for a crippler that meant the ball game.

Eagles Play Galatia Tonight

Eldorado, paced by Clark who was hitting well from 'way out, jumped away to a 9-0 lead in the first three minutes of play. Then McLeansboro rallied and in a couple of minutes was on top 10-9 and at the quarter it was 12-11.

McLeansboro scored 12 more to Eldorado's 11 in the second frame and at intermission the home club trailed 24-23.

Eldorado was held scoreless from the field in the third frame, but did pick up six free tosses, while McLeansboro again hit for 12 points and the visitors held a 39-29 advantage as the fourth quarter started.

Whittier and Lovellette, usually the big guns for Eldorado, had accounted for only two points up to this part of the game, a couple of free tosses by Lovellette.

In the 22-point fourth frame Lovellette contributed 12 points and Whittier six to the Eldorado attack.

Tonight Eldorado travels to Galatia.

For Those Who Follow

Imagine picking your way along a frozen wilderness trail.

You're bitterly cold, but see no sign of human habitation, mile after terrifying mile.

Then, thanks to someone who's already gone this way, you come upon a crude shack. Even with shelter you could still freeze to death, but you find wood already gathered for a fire.

Later, before venturing on, you too pile high more wood for someone yet to come.

No matter who you are—or where—your life marks a trail that someone is following. Along that way is the Church—a haven from storms of the world.

Yet the building alone is not enough. It must have people to work in it and to gather fuel for the fires of faith.

Look ahead as your fathers did before you. Begin today to support and strengthen the Church for those yet to come.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"The Living God"

Psalms 103:8-13; Isaiah 40:23-29; Matt. 6:9; John 4:23-24; 10:30

GOLDEN TEXT: "God is Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." (John 4:24)

INTRODUCTION — What kind of a God do you worship? What is He to you? Do you really worship Him, or do you just play at worshipping Him?

God, to some people, is a driving task-master. To others He is small and insignificant and very unable to meet the needs of their everyday lives. To still others He is a God of love, and that is all. Certainly this latter group is vastly mistaken.

Who is your God? What kind of a God is He? Is He powerful and wise? Is He adequate for all your needs twenty-four hours each day?

To be able to describe God has been the desire of prophet and seer through all the ages. Certainly we can only begin to describe Him in the short span of this lesson.

I—GOD IS MERCIFUL AND GRACIOUS—(Ps. 103:8-13)

You may be sure that God will not permit sin and indifference to go unopposed. Yet, God is just. He is merciful, and slow to anger. "He will not always chide; neither will He keep His anger forever." (V. 9). Do you think that you have been "getting by" with that sin you keep repeating? Do not kid yourself! God knows all about it. He is "merciful and slow to anger." But, look out! Remember, He will not "keep His anger forever."

God has not dealt with any of us according to our sins. No, that would have called for our death long ago. His mercy is great toward all of us. "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him." (V. 13).

Fear here does not mean a cringing, agonizing fear, but a wholesome fear of doing that which is wrong that might displease God. II—GOD IS THE CREATOR AND KEEPER—(Isa. 40:25-29)

The God whom we serve is all-powerful and all-wise. Just look around you. No sensible person could honestly say that, "these things just happened." There is order and intelligent planning in all nature and in all of the universe.

God, who created all things and us, also made plans for our individual lives. Do you know what His plan for your life is? You can know if you want to. Why don't you just ask Him? Everytime someone says it takes faith to believe in God, we ought to remind that person that it is insanity not to believe in Him.

It is good to know that He is not too busy managing the universe to pay attention to the needs of each individual.

III—"OUR FATHER WHICH ART IN HEAVEN" (Matt. 6:9; John 4:23-24)

My! the fullness of the meaning of that statement is so difficult to realize. The one word, "Father," means so very much. He is our Father. To Him we bring all our worship, our thanksgiving, as well as all our burdens and trials.

We "worship Him in spirit and in truth." All other forms of worship are empty. We do not worship Him by working up our emotions. He is a Spirit, and we must worship Him in spirit and in truth.

CONCLUSION — (CHRIST AND GOD ARE ONE) — John 10:1

Here we see the picture of the Trinity. God, Son and Holy Spirit are all one.

Here is a simple illustration: I am the son of my father. I am the father of my son. When I am away my son is conscious of my personality. He knows me and many of my thoughts. I am both father and son, and I also claim spiritual presence when I am away from my family.

So, God is Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Jesus Christ is God. He is able to save you from all your sins to live through all eternity with Him.
